

Environmental Policy on Housing Development

We are committed to developing sustainable housing by establishing, implementing and improving continuously an Environmental Management System which satisfies ISO 14001 requirements through the following environmental protection principles:

To integrate environmental considerations in the planning, design, construction, operation and maintenance provisions of our buildings.

To prevent pollution and to protect the environment by conserving natural resources and minimizing waste.

To comply with all applicable environmental legal requirements and other requirements to which we subscribe.

To enhance environmental awareness via internal and external communication of this policy and education to our staff, consultants, contractors, and other interested parties.

To seek continuous environmental improvements through the establishment of environmental objectives and targets.

To instruct our consultants and contractors to implement our Environmental Management System.
